Mill Levy Stirs Controversy In Regents' University Group

HELENA (AP) — A proposal that the recently dropped two-mill statewide levy on property be restored and earmarked for higher education sparked controversy Monday in the University Committee of the Board of Regents.

The recommendation reportedly came from the Council of Presidents, comprised of the presidents of the six units of Montana's university system. However, copies were not made available to newsmen.

The dispute arose suddenly as John D. French, Ronan, moved the committee accept the previously announced university system budgets subject to correlation with the budget director. French's motion was seconded by A. A. Arras Jr., Cut Bank.

Then M. E. Richard, Miles City, proposed a substitute motion that implied approval of the correlated budget if the revenue proposal was deleted. This motion was seconded by Mrs. Marjorie W. King, Winnett.

After a brief discussion of whether it is a prerogative of the Board of Regents to recommend a source of revenue, the regents voted to delay action until Tuesday.

Preceding discussion on the revenue point was talk of a number of budget deletions apparently requested by Budget Director Richard F. Morris.

Details were sketchy, but newsmen got the idea about $500,000 had been cut from nearly $900,000 of budget items classified as new programs.

Both Pres. Robert Johns of MSU and Pres. Leon Johnson of MSC told the board they would not argue about certain deletions in their budgets. These items apparently involved about $50,000 and dealt with rehabilitation programs for underprivileged and handicapped.

No over-all budget figures were mentioned at Monday's committee meeting. The committee and university presidents have been working with the budget director the past month on the budget submitted last July.

This called for $49.9 million in state and federal funds for the 1965-67 biennium, with legislative appropriations totaling about $39.6 million. Comparable figures for the present biennium are $36.4 million from all funds and $25.7 million from legislative appropriations.

Technological Man Must Be Self, Asserts Ex-Professor at Forum

Technological man has forgotten himself, said a retired English professor in summing up the Friday discussion at Montana Forum.

Edmund Freeman said modern man in a technological world must keep being himself.

In lieu of a speaker last week, students discussed the problem of technological man posed by Prof. Eugene Weigel and Prof. Robert Ammons at two previous Forum meetings.

Students thought of modern man:

- He is trying to become a machine. He is not really aware of what is going on around him.

- Most people were technological even before machines were invented. In any society there are only a few creative people.

- Inspiration to bring out creativity is not evident in most classes. Professors stand before the class giving out data while students just sit.

- Most undergraduate and graduate students do not have the ability to be creative.

- Encouragement for creativity is lacking. The ability to create is important and should not be stamped out. Creativity can be engineered and allowed to develop.

- Education is a reflection of the desires of a society that wishes everyone to fit into a group. These desires have been reflected in the values of the educational system.

- Forces from inside and outside the university cause the professor to be uncreative in teaching. The scientist can bound ahead in his work because most people do not know or care what he is doing. If a professor becomes creative in teaching, he is soon so pressured that he can not continue his work. The educational system and the mores have not yet reached the machine age.

- Common man gets a technological background to get a job in a technological world. If he spends too much time being creative, he will not get a job. Creativity is being stifled. Students have to study for required courses and do not have the time to be creative.

Bob Worcester, Forum chairman, said the trouble lies in the way knowledge is presented to the student. People are denied the right to get their own information. Disagreeing with this idea, another student thought educators should give all students the needed information and students should go on from there. He believes if students have the material, they can become creative.

History, Music to Mix At Concert Tomorrow

"The Tippecanoe Quickstep," written in 1840 for William Henry Harrison's presidential campaign, and other pieces which reflect early American musical history, will open the MSU Band Concert at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow in the University Theater.

The performance will feature a series of firsts for the group. For the first time in 20 years, the band will be wearing new uniforms. It also will be the first time David Whitwell, MSU director of bands, has conducted the group in concert.

Regents Accept Housing Plans

HELENA (AP)—The Montana Board of Regents Monday approved final plans for a 174-unit family housing project on the Montana State University campus as part of $3.6 million construction projects of the Missoula and Billings university units.

The housing project will be located between Maurice Avenue and the base of Mount Sentinel. Bids for this job, estimated to cost $1,750,000, may be opened by late January.

Still a month away from completion are final plans for the estimated $1,870,000 first phase of a library-classroom building at Eastern Montana College of Education, Billings. This initial, three-story structure will be located in the center of the campus between Petro and McMullen halls.

A spokesman for Fox, Ballas & Barrow, designer of the MSU housing project for married students, said it will have 104 two-bedroom, 52 one-bedroom and 18 three-bedroom apartments. There also will be three laundry buildings with coin-operated washers and dryers.

He said a survey of similar projects at out-of-state colleges shows such units mostly are occupied by graduate students with families. The units will rent for $80 a month for one bedroom, $85 for two bedrooms and $95 for three bedrooms, with utilities additional.

The brick and frame units will be carpeted, except for kitchens and baths, and will have their own furnaces. They should be ready for renting by June, 1966.

Committee Okays U Name Change

HELENA (AP)—Drafts of bills proposing the renaming of the university system and its units won approval Monday of the University Committee of the Board of Regents.

The Montana System of Higher Education would replace the name, University of Montana, under the proposal.

Montana State University would become the University of Montana.

Montana State College would become Montana State University. Montana School of Mines would become Montana College of Mineral Science and Technology.

The words "college of education" would be dropped from Eastern Montana College of Education. Northern Montana College would be the only unit to retain its present name.

Women to Carol For Men Tonight

University men will be serenaded by the women's living groups tonight. The women also will serenade at the residences of Pres. Robert Johns and Maurice Clow, associate dean of students.

The annual Christmas caroling event is sponsored by Junior Panhellenic.

Olsen Sees Aid As State Boost

Federal aid will be a big boost for Montana's future, Arnold Olsen, Western district congressman, indicated yesterday.

Speaking to the MSU science department faculty, Rep. Olsen said that through the Area Redevelopment Association, areas such as Glasgow, whose Air Force base will be disassembled within the next four years, will be provided with "liberal great-risk loans to establish industry" in the area.

To obtain a loan from the ARA does not necessarily imply that the areas are depressed.

T-Board Fund Shows Deficit

Traditions Board is operating with a deficit because of a misunderstanding the amount given to the committee for the year in the ASMSU budget.

According to the Student Accounting Office books, $138.88 has been paid out by T-Board, and $358.23 is yet unpaid, bringing the total bills incurred to $497.11. The allotment for T-Board for the year is $400.

The funds allowed the committee this quarter are $134 plus a $4.08 carry-over from last year. With the paid bills of $138.88, T-Board is now 80 cents in the hole.

Nikki Paulsrud, chairman of Traditions Board committee, said that she was operating on the assumption that T-Board had $640 to spend, the same amount that was allocated to the committee last year. She said she did not check on the funds available for 1964-65 and was not told of the bookkeeping structure of T-Board.

Bill Hibbs, ASMSU business manager, said the bills will have to be paid out of the General or Reserve funds but that henceforth "T-Board will have to limit its expenses."

Foreign Panel to Discuss Socialism

A panel of students from Sweden, Canada, Tanganyika, England and the United States will discuss world socialism at tonight's meeting of Cosmopolitan Club.

Allan Kittell of the MSU history department will be the moderator for the meeting in the University Congregational Church at 7:30 p.m.

Members of the panel will talk about the aspects of socialism in their own countries, and then the meeting will be open to discussion from the floor.

CHRISTMAS FOR THE KIDS—Santa paid these kids an early visit Saturday at the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity house. The Delta Sigs and Alpha Omicron Pi sorority gave the party for children from needy families and for children from the Missoula Crippled Children's home. Above, Charlene Goldhahn entertains some of the kids with games and stories. ## Picture Deadline Thursday

With three picture-taking days left, only 350 students have had their photos taken for next year's Sentinel. If response doesn't increase during the next few days, next year's book won't be much of a success—350 of 5,370 students won't provide a very representative book.

Pictures are being taken at Alan Shirley Studio, 736 South Higgins, from 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. today through Thursday. The studio also will be open from 7-9 p.m. tonight and Thursday.

It has been suggested that a photographer take pictures on campus for a few days or a week. We're sure this would greatly increase the number of photos in the annual and would be more convenient for students too busy to get to the off-campus studio during the week.

Such a setup was tried a number of years ago in the Lodge, but was unsuccessful. The floodlights for the photography overloaded the electrical system, blowing several fuses.

Cyrile Van Duser, Sentinel adviser, informs us that she searched campus this quarter for a room in which a temporary studio could be set up. Some of the buildings do not have the necessary electrical power, and the buildings that do apparently don't have an available room.

We think every effort should be made to set aside a room on campus next year for a temporary studio. In the meantime, the students will have to walk the few blocks to Alan Shirley's on South Higgins. Remember, Thursday is the last day. —djf

Graduate Student Criticizes Editorial About Grizzly Basketball Competition

To the Kaimin:

The editorial in last Thursday's Kaimin on the subject of Montana State University's upcoming basketball season left much to be desired to say the least.

The editor states that we are playing a "list of never-heard-of them teams" this year. I readily admit that we are not playing top-flight teams this year. I would like to see the Grizzlies play top teams in the West too. However, the editor seems to have left a few important items out of his editorial.

First of all, I would suggest that the editor investigate the scheduling problem. The University will play anybody on a home-and-home basis. There is little trouble in getting games away from Missoula with top-flight teams. Many teams will not come to Missoula because of the weather problem at the airport during the winter.

The editor says a "reputation means a great deal in basketball." This is true. However, you must win in basketball to maintain a reputation or to gain one. The better reputation a team has, the easier the scheduling problem becomes.

Also, what does the population of the school have to do with the quality of the basketball team? There are small schools across the nation that consistently produce top-flight basketball teams, such as Seattle University.

For once on this campus the Kaimin might support one of the sports for a change. The Kaimin might find the initiative to suggest that Montana State University hire a full-time assistant coach. The rest of the schools in the Big Sky Conference have seen fit to do so. Maybe they have an interest in winning. By the way, little, unknown Southern Colorado State has one.

Capitulations to Communism Infrequent In Defense of U.S. Policy, Senior Says

To the Kaimin,

I read the letter by Mr. Gapay in the Thursday, Dec. 3, issue of the Kaimin in which he stated, "We have capitulated to the Communists frequently in the past 20 years. Eastern Europe was given away at the Yalta conference. We fought a halfway war in Korea. We allowed the Berlin Wall to be built. We let Castro bring Communism to Cuba."

First, his use of the word "frequently" is inappropriate since in his case he presents only four instances of "capitulation" in the last "20 years" (an average of one instance every five years). That sir, according to Webster, is not "frequent."

He then says blandly that East Europe was given away at Yalta. This may have been the end result, but I venture to say that at Yalta no such circumstance was foreseen of our ally, the Soviet Union, either by Mr. Churchill or Mr. Roosevelt who did not have the advantage of hindsight that we have.

Next, as the record shows, we did not fight a "halfway" war in Korea. We marched to the Yalu River, retreating so as not to be overwhelmed by the large Chinese force.

The dream of a Communist bloc centered on the industrial complex of East Germany whose industrial power was tottering due to the lack of a skilled labor force. This lack was caused by emigration of four million people fleeing East German totalitarianism since 1945 (including the 30,000 people per month for several months preceding August, 1961, and the 3,000 persons per day during the days of August before the exodus was stopped on August 13, 1961). Who gains when people flock away from a country's borders? Surely not that country or the ideology it professes, Mr. Gapay.

Finally he says candidly, "We let Castro bring Communism to Cuba." Let's set the record straight. We helped Castro to power so he might throw off the yoke of Batista. It was only later, using Cuba's sovereignty, that Castro declared his true colors and tried, the Communist experiment.

These types of oversimplified statements are misrepresentations of fact. They are deluging our country and I for one only see harm in them for they form an unproductive burden on our nation which, if accepted (as they apparently are), create a sense of urgency to "turn the tide in our favor for once." In an attempt to climb a new wave of this turning tide we may find we have precipitated a nuclear holocaust.

Instructor Clarifies Stand on Viet Nam

To the Kaimin:

I am grateful to Mrs. Barbara Rhodes for having initiated a campus dialogue on the matter of United States policy in South Viet Nam. Much more discussion of this crucial problem is sorely needed and I am confident that it will take place. I intend to take part in it.

Unfortunately the letter printed in the Kaimin of Dec. 2 is not the letter that I signed. The statement that "this country is the only foreign power to have violated the Geneva accords by intervening in Viet Nam" was not in the letter I signed and is not true. It is true that the roles being played by the United States, North Viet Nam, and very probably Communist China in the war in South Viet Nam are in violation of the spirit of the Geneva accords and the United Nations Charter as well.

My own position in my own words is this: the role of the United States in South Viet Nam is immoral and, more importantly, ineffective. An expansion or continuation of American military participation in the war in South Viet Nam would, in my view, involve an even grosser violation of American values, would probably make the solution of the problem even more remote and would incur risks of major war that are intolerable.

An alternative to U.S. military involvement in South Viet Nam must be found and soon. This is, of course, by no means all I have to say on the matter.

BARCLAY KUHN

P.S. The report in Friday's Kaimin of my speech at Liberal Club should have read that Communist China . . . appears to have achieved a very "secure control of her 600 million people" (not six million people).

MSU Crushed by Wyoming In Non-Conference Contest

By TOM SULLIVAN
Special for the Kaimin

LARAMIE, Wyo. — The Wyoming Cowboys, led by center Leon Clark and guard Flynn Robinson, stormed past the Montana Grizzlies 94-66 last night in Memorial Fieldhouse before a crowd of about 4,200 fans.

Clark hauled down 14 rebounds and was the key to the Wyoming fast break attack which swamped the Grizzlies. Robinson scored 24 points to lead all scorers and Clark chipped in 13.

The victory raises the Wyoming record to 3-0, while MSU is 1-1.

Coach Ron Nord said that "if we could have scored in the early part of the game, it would have been a different ball game for a long time."

The first MSU score came after almost five minutes had elapsed in the first half. The Tips had trouble getting the ball in close, and when they did, they either missed the shots or had them blocked.

"I'm not a bit ashamed of the team," Nord said. "We were beaten by a good ball club."

Nebraska was defeated by an almost identical score, 94-68, last week by Wyoming before dumping Purdue.

With 11:41 on the clock in the first half, the Grizzlies trailed only 13-11, but Wyoming began to control the boards and piled up a big lead.

The Cowboys had a 41 to 25 edge in rebounding as they moved out to a 47-26 halftime lead.

Midway in the third period, Wyoming led 80-39, the biggest margin of the night, before the Montana offense was able to get rolling again.

Nord said that "Wyoming played a much better defense than we had anticipated." The Montana offense was kept outside much of the time and was not able to penetrate to get the good shots.

Ed Samelton led Montana scorers with 13 points. Bill Rice was the top rebounder for the Tips with 12, followed by Wade Hughes, who had 11.

Grizzlies Gain Opening Win Against Southern Colorado

The Grizzlies opened their 1964-65 basketball season Friday night by scalping the Indians of Southern Colorado State 75-69 before a Field House crowd estimated at 5,000.

It was the first time in two years the Indians had been held to less than 76 points. The visitors from Pueblo averaged 94.6 points per game last year.

Led by Gary Meggelin and Mike Persha, the Grizzlies, after trailing for most of the first half, forged to a 38-33 lead at the midway mark.

Hot-handed Bob Graham scored 18 points in the first stanza and finished as high scorer with 29.

The Indians began to close the gap in the second half as Sam Moore and Sam Batey, along with Ron DeLeon, hit on jump shots.

With SCS leading 54-53, Jim Pramenko came in and hit three baskets and a free throw to give the Grizzlies a 60-58 lead with six minutes left in the game.

From there, the Grizzlies took advantage of their superior height with Ed Samelton, Wade Hughes and Tom Schilke dominating the boards. Samelton led MSU in rebounding with 10.

Samelton hit on 5 of 22 shots from the field and wound up with 15 points. Persha scored 7 of 14 attempts and also finished with 15. Schilke had 12 points.

The Indians were effective from the field on outside shots, but could not cope with the Grizzly defense inside the key. Only nine of 31 SCS goals were layups, as the Grizzlies were able to contain both Moore and Batey, who finished with 12 apiece.

Cubs Defeat Independents

A slow start but a fast finish enabled the Cubs to come from behind Friday to defeat the Missoula Independents, 62-56.

Tim Pfahler, 6-3 forward from Litchfield, Ill., led the freshman attack, scoring 18 points. Norm Clark tallied 14, and Lee Levknecht added 12. Both are guards.

Big Rocky Greenfield utilized his 6-7 power inside and led the Independents with 15 points. Russ Sheriff had 12 and Tim Aldrich added 8.

The freshman squad, coached by Joe McDonald, officially opens its season Friday against Malmstrom Air Force Base. The game will start at 6 p.m., with the Grizzlies meeting the University of North Dakota at 8.

Wayne Harrington Recipient Of First Terry Dillon Award

The first annual Terry Dillon Memorial Award was presented to football player Wayne Harrington Friday night during halftime ceremonies of the MSU-SCS basketball game.

Harrington was chosen by his teammates as the individual showing outstanding ability, sportsmanship and attitude during the 1964 football season.

The award, a pin symbolic of Dillon's retired number 22, was presented by Lorraine Berry, Dillon's fiancée at the time of his death last spring.

A permanent trophy will be placed in the Field House, with the names of the award winners to be added each year.

Harrington, a junior from Yakima, Wash., saw action at line-backer and center for the Grizzlies this year and tied for first team All-Conference center in the Big Sky.

GOP Executive Director Resigns

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON

Under sharp fire from within the party, John Grenier resigned Monday as executive director of the Republican National Committee.

His resignation, announced by GOP National Chairman Dean Burch comes two days after the Republican Governor's Association called for a shakeup of the national committee leadership in the wake of Sen. Barry Goldwater's landslide defeat in November.

President Johnson and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson Monday opened a two-day conference on the nuclear weapons crisis in the Atlantic alliance.

They reportedly hope to develop some new formula which would win West German and other Allied support in spite of French opposition.

The Supreme Court struck down Monday a Florida law making it a crime for a Negro man and a white woman, or a white man and a Negro woman, habitually to occupy the same room at night.

Justice Byron R. White, for a unanimous court, said the Florida law represented "an exercise of the state police power which trenches upon the constitutionally protected freedom from invidious official discrimination based on race."

Gov. Babcock said Monday he is gratified Republican National Chairman Dean Burch said he endorses a GOP policy statement issued by 18 Republican governors at Denver.

"That is exactly what I told the other governors," Babcock said when asked to comment on Burch's disclaimer that the governors' statements asks for his removal.

We can show you 5 of the 6 reasons this cordless shaver costs a bit more.

Big shaver head. Riddled with 756 slots. Once a whisker goes through, good-bye. It's through.

348 cutting edges. Sharp. Stay sharp because they're honed of surgical high-carbon steel.

4 Roller Combs. Adjust to every kind of skin and beard. Gently roll skin down, pop whiskers into the cutter.

Hidden under the head case, a straight cutting edge for clean, even sideburns. Neat.

Most powerful motor in shaving. Never a slowdown on straightways or tricky curves. Fast.

The 6th is invisible.

LEKTRONIC: Trademark of Sperry Rand Corporation.

The REMINGTON® LEKTRONIC II SHAVER is cordless. Runs on built-in rechargeable energy cells. (Also works with a cord, if you forget to recharge.) Shave upstairs. Downstairs. On the stairs. Freedom is this shaver's middle name.

Freedom alone would make the LEKTRONIC II worth a little more. The other 5 parts? Strictly bonus.
